January 9 – 10, 2012

Room 150, Scheman Building
Iowa State University campus
Ames, Iowa

Iowa State University Extension is offering a Certified Crop Adviser Exam Review Session in preparation for the upcoming CCA exam. The two-day review session will be held on January 9 from 8:30 AM to 5:45 PM and January 10 from 8:00 AM to 3:30 PM in room 150 of the Scheman Building, Iowa State Center, on the Iowa State University campus. The cost of the course is $250 and includes meals and course materials. Each participant also receives the latest edition of the Crop Diagnostic Notebook containing nearly 150 Extension publications and crop production references. For individuals that already own a copy of the notebook a reduced registration of $175 is available.

Class topics will follow the "Performance Objectives for Iowa, April 2011" document, available on the CCA web site. Attendees are encouraged to review and be familiar with this document before attending the class.

During the sessions students will be using radio-controlled response devices to answer practice exam questions and track their scores. At the conclusion of the review sessions a 'mock' CCA examination will be given so students will know what to expect in an actual testing situation.

All sessions will be taught by Iowa State University Extension faculty and staff.

Class enrollment will be limited to the first 60 paid registrations. If the class is full an announcement will be made on the class website. Registrations must be received no later than midnight, Wednesday, January 4. Pre-registration is required. Registrations may be faxed, mailed, or completed online with a credit card. Please use the registration form on the back of this flyer. Upon receipt of your paid registration, additional information, maps, and parking details will be sent via US Mail.

Lodging arrangements are the responsibility of the student. A complete listing of Ames-area hotels is at www.visitames.com.
